

BOWL SEASON ANNOUNCES 2022-23 EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

New Hires Also Named for Managing Organization Around College Football's Postseason

DALLAS -- Bowl Season today announced its 2022-23 Executive Committee, which begins its term on July 1 and runs through June 30, 2023. Allstate Sugar Bowl CEO Jeff Hundley will serve as committee chair for 2022-23. Added to the executive committee this year is Derrick Fox of the Valero Alamo Bowl who returns to the group after serving from 1996-2006, which included a two-year stint as chair from 2004-06.

"We're excited to announce our executive committee and officially kick off the 2022-23 season," said Nick Carparelli, executive director of Bowl Season. "This group has years of tremendous experience, led by Jeff Hundley as our chair. The college football season is just around the corner, and we can't wait to see what transpires."

About Bowl Season

Bowl Season is one of the greatest and longest running traditions in American sports, taking place in late December and running through early January, and has been college football's post-season for over 100 years. It promotes the grand tradition of the bowl system and its endearing value to student-athletes, highlighting the broader university and college communities, including spirit squads, marching bands, athletic staff and fans. Bowl Season spotlights the distinctiveness of each of the bowl games along with their histories and traditions and their proud communities - embracing and honoring the bowl experience for present and future generations.
