Arlington, TX (August 28, 2024) – Dallas Wings sixth-year guard Arike Ogunbowale was recognized at Dallas City Hall Wednesday morning for her achievement in winning the 2024 WNBA All-Star Game MVP award. Ogunbowale was honored by Mayor Eric Johnson along with City Council Members within Council Chambers at City Hall.

Ogunbowale was named the 2024 WNBA All-Star Game Most Valuable Player after setting records for most points in a quarter, half and game while leading Team WNBA to the 117-109 win over Team USA on July 20 at Footprint Center in Phoenix, Ariz.

Ogunbowale, who was making her fourth All-Star Game appearance, scored a single-quarter record 21 points in the third before adding 13 in the fourth to finish with a record 34 points in the game. All 34 of her record-setting points came in the second half to establish a single-half standard.
