AUSTIN, TX (January 5, 2026) - A visionary new project in Austin, Texas, is set to bring the exhilaration of surfing to Central Texas with the world's largest man-made surf basin. Powered by Kelly Slater Wave Company technology, the exclusive 214-acre development, known as Austin Surf Club, is the newest project from Discovery Land Company, the global developer of private luxury residential communities.

Austin Surf Club is an unprecedented members-only residential community where the relaxed surf culture of the coast meets sophisticated Texas charm. With approximately 177 luxury residences nestled on 214 acres of rolling landscape, this unique fusion is the latest project from Discovery, known for creating world-class communities like Madison Club and Chileno Bay.

A three-five-hour drive separates residents of Austin, Texas, from the nearest surfable waves. But for Austin Surf Club members, this commute will be cut down to a few footsteps. The centerpiece of the community is a cutting-edge surf basin that delivers perfect, customizable waves for all skill levels. Designed by Kelly Slater, built in partnership with Kelly Slater Wave Company, the basin will be the largest and most advanced man-made wave in the world, creating a unique inland destination for a vibrant surfing lifestyle.

"Austin Surf Club is truly unlike any other community in the Discovery portfolio," said Mike Meldman, Founder and Chairman at Discovery Land Company. "The spirit behind the pursuit of the perfect wave has inspired remarkable rapid advancements in wave innovation in recent years. We're fortunate to partner with Kelly and his groundbreaking wave technology, which stands among the best in the world, and bring its third iteration to the heart of Texas."

"Partnering with Discovery to bring our technology to Austin, Texas is incredibly exciting," said Kelly Slater, world-renowned surfer and Founder of Kelly Slater Wave Company. "The project will support Texas' emerging surf culture and perfectly complement the city's innovative and adventurous lifestyle. This cutting-edge technology is poised to thrill both beginner and expert surfers alike, all in the heart of a dynamic city."

"Our vision is to create a residential surf and wellness haven that redefines the luxury lifestyle for members. This community is built on the belief that a home should be a launchpad for incredible experiences, where families can connect through shared adventure, love of the surf lifestyle, and enjoy the laid-back luxury and natural beauty of the Texas," said Jasen Trautwein, a Founding Investor of Austin Surf Club.

"Austin Surf Club will be more than just a gathering place, it's where advanced technology and the sport of surfing will come together to build both a world-class wave and a true sense of community. This project is about building connections, inspiring new experiences, and shaping a future where individuals and families can thrive both in and out of the water." said Ray Pittman, President at Austin Surf Club.
