FRISCO, Texas (February 25, 2026) — Following extraordinary interest since hospitality offerings launched last summer, the PGA of America announced today a limited selection of corporate hospitality packages remain available for the 2027 PGA Championship, scheduled for May 17-23 at Fields Ranch East at PGA Frisco, with some locations already sold out. The current availability follows the release of additional hospitality inventory in response to the unprecedented initial demand.

Awarded on a first-come, first-served basis, remaining hospitality experiences include private on-course chalets, premium suites, as well as reserved tables. All on-course venues provide a comfortable, climate-controlled setting with all-inclusive food and beverage service and parking access.

The 2027 PGA Championship marks the 100-year anniversary of Walter Hagen's historic victory in the 1927 PGA Championship at Cedar Crest in Dallas. It also represents the first men's Major Championship contested in Dallas-Fort Worth in 64 years (1963 PGA Championship won by Jack Nicklaus at Dallas Athletic Club) and the first in the state of Texas in 58 years (1969 U.S. Open at Champions Club in Houston).

Designed by renowned golf course architect Gil Hanse, Fields Ranch East at PGA Frisco will host the strongest field in golf for the first time in 2027—its third Major Championship following the 2023 Senior PGA Championship and 2025 KPMG Women's PGA Championship.

"We are humbled by the tremendous local and regional support since going on-sale, and this response is a great reminder of the magnitude of the historic return of a men's major to North Texas," said Jason Mengel, Championship Director. "We encourage those interested in hospitality to act quickly as we are down to single-digit availability across multiple locations, and larger packages traditionally sell out 10-12 months ahead of the event."

Blake Rowling, CEO of TRT Holdings, has been named General Chair of the 2027 PGA Championship. Rowling will lead the Championship Host Committee, overseeing more than 50 committee chairs and over 3,000 volunteers, while also supporting the Championship's sales initiatives. Rowling, a Texas native and University of Texas graduate, leads TRT Holdings which operates as a diversified holding and investment company with major interests in hospitality, energy, real estate and retail.

"It's an honor and privilege to accept the position of General Chair for the 2027 PGA Championship," said Rowling. "Hosting a men's major at the Home of the PGA of America and Omni PGA Frisco Resort is a dream come true. The 660-acre campus was designed with hosting a major championship in mind, and we're excited for the destination to shine on a global stage. I look forward to collaborating with the Championship staff as well as the business and community leaders as we prepare to deliver a world-class experience in 2027."

Check the Source Before Purchasing

The PGA of America strongly advises interested parties to check the source before purchasing 2027 PGA Championship corporate hospitality packages. The PGA of America is the only source to offer official hospitality packages to the event, and only official hospitality packages are located on the actual championship grounds at Fields Ranch East at PGA Frisco.

Due to high demand and limited availability, it has become common practice for independent companies to market unofficial hospitality packages to the corporate community. These packages often falsely imply an affiliation with PGA of America and the 2027 PGA Championship, and will not provide access to the grounds of the event.
